(For Clients Under 18)

Dear Valued Client,

Thank you for choosing us for your hair color transformation! We are committed to providing the highest quality services while ensuring your satisfaction. Before we proceed, we ask that both you and your parent/guardian carefully read and acknowledge the potential risks associated with color correction or double-process treatments.

Color Correction: What to Expect

1. Understanding the Process

- What It Is: Color correction involves adjusting or correcting previous hair color that may have resulted in an unwanted shade. This process may include lightening, toning, or applying new color.
- Risks: Color correction may require multiple sessions, and results can vary depending on your hair's current condition, history of treatments, and desired outcome.

2. Possible Outcomes and Risks

- Hair Damage: Due to the chemicals involved, there is a risk of dryness, breakage, or thinning of the hair.
- Color Variability: We cannot guarantee exact color outcomes, especially if the hair has been previously treated or is severely damaged.

3. Additional Costs and Time

- Time: Color correction may take several hours or sessions depending on the complexity.
- Cost: Costs may increase based on the number of treatments required to achieve the desired result.

Double Process: What to Expect

1. Understanding the Process

- What It Is: Double processing involves two steps—bleaching or lightening the hair first, followed by applying a toner or color to achieve the final desired shade.
- Risks: Lightening your hair can cause damage, especially if your hair is dark, chemically treated, or fragile.

2. Possible Outcomes and Risks

- Hair Damage: Bleaching can cause dryness, breakage, and texture changes. Post-treatment care is crucial for maintaining healthy hair.
- Results: Achieving a specific shade may take more than one session, and the final result depends on your hair's condition.

3. Time Commitment & Costs

- o Time: A double-process treatment typically takes 3 to 6 hours and may require breaks during the process.
- o Cost: Prices may vary based on the length and thickness of your hair, as well as any additional treatments like deep conditioning.
